Americas price increase on nylon-based compounds

Dear Valued Customer:

Celanese Corporation will increase the prices of its nylon-based compounds. The increase shall be effective immediately, or as contracts allow, in the amount outlined below.

USA and Canada USD/kg	Mexico USD/kg	South America USD/kg
0.30	0.30	0.30

Celanese continues to support its customers globally with a broad and growing portfolio of innovative, high quality nylon compounds. The company is committed to enhancing its product offerings and capabilities through ongoing investments in capital assets, technologies and product and application expertise.

You will be contacted shortly by your Celanese account manager to discuss implementation. We value your trust as a customer and look forward to continued success in the future.
